CORTEGE FUNERAL

Unidentified Victims of Washington Place Fire Buried in City Plot.

New York, April 5.-Rain reduced to less than 75,000 to-day that army or 200,000 workers who had planned to murch in memory of the victims of the Washington Place factory fire; but what the storm took in numbers it added in solemnity. The demonstration will long be remembered by those who took active part and by countlers who took active part and by countlers thousands who came to look on, but who unconsciously found themselves joining in the wave of mournful emotion which swept the line of march. Simultaneously with the removal from the morgue for burlal of the eight coffins containing unidentified victims of the fire, in which 141 lives were lost workers poured from sweat shops and garment factories throughout the city and formed in line at untown and downtown starting points. Neither division took part in the little procession, but marched only as a demonstration, while the eight unmaned dead were borne to a resting place in a city plot. it added in solemnity. The demonstraonstration, while the eight annumed dead were borne to a resting place in a city plot.

The downtown section was headed by 500 men and women employes of the Triangle Waist Company, survivors of the fire, and when they turned into Washington Square, where so many of their conrades met death, one young woman broke forth into a wall of mournfulness that swept the entire throng, even to the onlookers.

Meanwhile the uptown division had been trudging south, and when the two sections poured into the square and met, hundreds, if not thousands, burst into tears: many knelt in the wet streets in prayer, and women and men embraced and wept.

The uptown marchers, flanked by spectators, spread back for twenty blocks, and the downtown line was fully as long. Each person carried a small American flag draped in crepe. Now and then the line was broken by a bedraggled banner lettered, "We mourn our loss."

The bodies of unidentified dead were burled in Evergreen Cametery, where services were conducted in three faiths—Jewish, Catholie and Protestant,

Appeal to Supreme Court on Question Covering State Taxation,

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Greensboro, N. C. April 5.—in chambers here to-night Judge Daniels sustained the demurrer of defendant in the suit instituted by Governor Kitchin in behalf of the State against State Auditor Wood to order the auditor and dreary: Club, it goes. The day dawned dark after a time at attorney-General Jones argued the case for the State. The revenue act of the last for the State. The revenue act of the last for the State and the growth of the weather report stuff. It rained It did more. The heavens for the State has since the constitution reshed to send something, and I'll bet a kopec that they are more worried about it than I am. They might report that Fred Merkle beat Johnnny McGraw two out of three games of twenty-five-point three-cushion billiards, or that Christy manner. It could hardly be called a supplication. The heavens are the property tax from the state in the state of the last property tax from the state in the supplied of the weather report stuff. It rained It did more. The heavens shed copiously, so copiously did they possed to be on tap, or that Josh Devors prung another funny joke, or that Boze Bulger failed to recognize a messenger boy in uniform, taking him for the supplied to the supplied to the congular and the supplied to house of Richmand in most foreboding manner. It could hardly be called auspicious. (This is not drama.) But a special to the state. The revenue act of the last Legislature increased the property tax from 13 to 65 cents, leaving the poil tax $1.15. Jones argued that since the constitution required that the poil tax should be thrice the amount of the property tax, it automatically fixed the poil at $1.25. In support of his demurrer Dixog cited Russell against Auditor Ayer, exactly like the present case, where the Supreme Court decided that the constitutional equation having been disregarded in the revenue act of 18% it was void, and taxes would be collected under the revenue act of 18%. Judge Daniels said he could not fly in the face of this opinion of the Eupreme Court in a case identical with this and sustained the demurrer. Counsel for Governor Kitchin appealed to the Supreme Court, and says he is confident the decision in 18% will be reversed.

The case will be heard in a few days in the Supreme Court, since the whole question of State taxation is held up until a decision is obtained.

Secretary's Farrell's decision that no baseball club under protection could play ball with the Tidewater organization is not at all surprising, nor can it be construed as a war on that league. It is simply a law of organized baseball. No organized club can play outlaw ball, nor have relations with an outlaw league. That's all it means. If any in that section of the State have been in doubt as to the strius of the Tidewater makeshift, their binds will now be set at rest. It s an outlaw league, playing ou aw ball. EASY WAY TO IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION

(From Los Angeles Press.)

In an address before the convention of "Beauty Specialists" here to-day. Mrs. Mae Martyn, the noted authority on beauty culture, spoke of a new and simple method of quickly beautifying complexions. She demonstrated before the large audience a lotion made from four ounces spurmax dissolved in one-half pint hot water with two teaspoonfuls glycerine added. She applied this lotion gently to the face, neck and arms of a decidedly unattractive young woman. In a few moments all trace of a shiny, sallow, muddy skin was gone and the transformation to that of a really charming, velvety complexion was marvelous.

After much excitement and intense interest, Mrs. Martyn said: "Any druggist can supply the ingredients for this lotion at a small cost. It does not rub off or show like powder, and is an unequaled aid to beauty."

Andrew Johnson's Cane.

There came to Governor Kitchin today for the Hall of History, from Mrs. Bessie Rumbough Safford, Hot Springs, N. C., whose first husband was Andrew Johnson, Jr., a gold-headed cane that was the property of Andrew Johnson President of the United States. It bears this inscription on the head:

"Made of Wood from the Frigate Constitution." On one of the panels is the further inscription. "Presented to "Made of Wood from the Frigate Constitution." On one of the panels is the further inscription: "Presented to Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, Restorer of the Constitution, by James Lyon, August, 1866." The cane is longer than usual and heavier. The wood is well preserved, and it had a massive silver ferrule. The Newton Oil and Fertilizer Company, of Newton, was chartered today, with $50,000 capital, by J. B. and R. L. Little, Catawba Cotton Mills and others, for general cotton seed products. The paid in capital is $20,000. There were also charters for the Central Reality Company, Charlotte, capital $250,000, by N. S. Lee, Z. V. Taylor and F. C. Abbott, and the Greensboro Country Club, capital $100,000 authorized and $2.000 subscribed, for establishing a country club for Gate City.

Governor Kitchin says he has invited a number of representative men in the Senate to become members of the commission for the erection of the $250,000 freproof State administration building, provided for by the recent Legislature, but that it will be probably several days before any announcement will be forthcoming. One of the invitations was to Colonel A. H. Boyden, who as
